FOR REPRESENTATIVE
DR. A. D. PARK.
FOR CIRCUIT COURT CLERK
E. G. HARRISS.

WHAT VOTERS MUST DETERMINE.

It would be difficult to exaggerate the issues upon which the people will pass at the polls next Tuesday. In the first place, they must determine whether or not they will practically set aside the provision of the State constitution prohibiting a second term for the Governor immediately following his first. They must determine whether or not they will approve the usurpation of office for which the Governor stands.

They must pass upon the Calhoun issue, two in number, resting upon entirely separate and distinct grounds. The first is a fee of 15 per cent. awarded to a captain of the Kentucky militia for collecting the pay of the soldiers, due to the soldiers, primarily by the State, for services rendered the United States; a just debt as far as the soldiers are concerned; a debt for which, under the letters of the law, the State was bound; a debt for which the federal government acknowledged its moral obligation and met it. For collecting this debt the State did not pay its officer, but the Governor of the State authorized Capt. Calhoun to retain 15 per cent. of this money going to the soldiers.

The people must pass upon the Governor's pardon record. They must approve it if they vote for Gov. Beckham, the Alvey pardon, the Raleigh pardon, the Weatherford pardon and the Clark release.

The people must express their approval of the increase in taxation, an increase amounting to $200,000 a year under the present administration, expended in special fees paid unnecessarily to attorneys.

The people must pass upon and approve or disapprove the conduct of the income assylum.

The people must pass upon and approve the spirit in which the Governor of the State rescues any inspection of his official record, the efforts which have been made to conceal from the public the facts relating to public business.

IS IT SLANDER?

The Herald, of Hartford, pipes loud and strong because we reproduced last week a few lines from the Havensville Plaindealer, in which reference was made to Ben Ringo, the Democratic nominee for Commonwealth's Attorney, as a member of the Beckham crowd—or words of like purport. The Herald, in response to this charge or reference of the Plaindealer, says:

No more foul slander was ever cast on a scholarly, beloved, Christian gentleman.

Now, let us see about this "foul slander." Does not Mr. Ringo endorse the candidacy of Mr. Beckham? Is he not in sympathy with and supporting the Democratic ticket headed by Beckham? Did he not, as a member of the Democratic State Central Committee, cast his vote in favor of the Goebel contest which wrought all the lawlessness and disorder at Frankfort in 1907? Did not his vote in favor of that contest together with that of Judge Jas. Hargis, a member of the same committee, produce a majority in favor of a contest? These are pertinent questions, and from the Herald's response for Mr. Ringo, we infer that the two first are already answered no, and Mr. Ringo is neither supporting nor in sympathy with the ticket of which Mr. Beckham is the head. If this be true, can true Beckham supporters cast their votes for him?

We are conversant with and reliably informed about his action in the Goebel contest matter and all the remaining questions are answered yes, and no Republican can afford to support him.

As to the Herald's attack on Mr. Heavrin's personality, we wish to say that we have known him for several years and have been intimately associated with him for a good portion of the time and have always found him to be a true, kind, accommodating and gentlemanly gentleman of the highest type. He is, however, too well known over the district to need our defense of his personal attainments and qualifications. His record as a lawyer is equal to, if not superior, to that of his opponent, Ringo.

The ironical reference to the REPUBLICAN, as the "nicest-nice" HARTFORD REPUBLICAN, under its new management, is meant for ridicule and criticism of THE REPUBLICAN's editor. We are personally known only by a comparatively few of our readers, to those, we have nothing to say in our defense, and to those who know us not, you will, perhaps, forget the idle remarks of the Herald before you meet us.

If Kentucky believes in the Calhoun fee, Beckham will be elected. This was the largest legal fee ever paid in the State of Kentucky, and the service rendered was what any clerk in Frankfort was capable of doing. We are not advised as to how much Capt. Calhoun gave to the Democratic campaign fund, but we do know that he got $71,000 at one time and about $18,000 at another for very little work, and we do know that it is suspected, and has been publicly charged, and not denied, that much of this fee found its way into the Democratic campaign fund. This is another of the "shady" ways Beckham has of looting the State Treasury for the benefit of his campaign fund, and judging from the amount of "boodle" that we have learned that a certain county official brought back with him on his return from a recent trip to Louisville, we are inclined to the belief that Capt. Calhoun and the Governor did have some sort of an arrangement whereby a large part of the large fee reached the campaign fund.

THE Democratic Campaign Committee is sending broadcast over the State to Democrats and Republicans alike, letters signed by S. W. Hager, in which appears the most remarkable falsehoods that we have recently seen in print. It says that when they took charge in 1900, the State owed two millions of dollars, when, as a matter of fact, the records show that there was enough money in the treasury to pay every dollar that the State owed. The whole of the letter, from beginning to end, is an infamous falsehood and is sent out just before the election for the purpose of deceiving the voters.

"I would rather have my hand shook off by Democrats than to have my head shot off by Republicans."

These are the words uttered by our Governor, Mr. Beckham, at his Beaver Dam recitation Wednesday. Can any one, who has not been beset by partisan Democracy, vote for a man, who, as Governor, will utter such vile and slanderous words against a majority of the people for whom he is Governor. This utterance of Beckham's is a direct thrust at every Republican in the State. Can any one, who is inclined to Republicanism, vote for such a man.

REPUBLICANS and Independent voters, you should all turn out early next Tuesday and cast your ballot for Ed Barras for Circuit Court Clerk. Ed is one of the nicest young men it has ever been our pleasure to meet—modest, genteel and affable and possessing those business qualifications which specially fit him for the office to which he aspires. Vote for him.

If Beckham is elected it will not only wash white the sin of stealing offices, but it will make "Calhouning" a settled policy of the State. The Raleigh pardon and the various other political pardons of bloody Breathitt will be held up as acts of charity on the part of Beckham.

All the inmates now in the penitentiary are Republicans.—Beckham at Beaver Dam Wednesday.

This is easily accounted for after four years reign of Beckhamism. It is an acknowledgement of what the Republicans have been charging all the time. Democrats have been pardoned out by the two-by-four Governor.

We will be ably represented in the next Legislature. Dr. A. D. Park will be in the House of Representatives and Hon. A. S. Bennett will look after our interests in the Senate.

VOTE for Belknap and insure a clean business administration of the State's affairs for the next four years.

STAMP your ballot under the log cabin and strike a blow at pardon brokerage and Calhounism.

A VOTE for Birkhead is a vote for a Judiciary ranking with partisan Democracy.

Go to the polls early and cast your ballot for a business administration.

A VOTE for Beckham is a vote to endorse the pardon brokerage.

A VOTE for Beckham is a vote to hang Caleb Powers.

BRADLEY DEFIES

The Democratic Traducers of His Administration From His Sick Bed.

Gov. Bradley on his sick bed made the following statement: "I am deeply humiliated and disappointed at not being able to speak. I never wanted to make a speech more in my life. I want to show my loyalty to the ticket and disapprove the lies of the hounds who have been accusing me of snifling. Then, too, I want to defend my own administration. I could crush Mr. Beckham's pretensions like an egg shell. I have facts at my command that no one else has, and I can't express how mortified I am at not being able to do my part."

Gov. Bradley has prepared half of his speech and hopes to be able to finish it to be issued in the form of an address to the voters.

Democratic Rally.

After extensive advertising by big posters, through the Herald and in various ways, the Democratic rally at Beaver Dam Wednesday was a severe frost. Not more than 1,000 persons were there and the crowd was the least responsive that ever listened to a candidate for Governor in Ohio county.

Ben. D. Ringo was the first; speaker's stand was near the railroad and he was frequently interrupted by passing trains. Each time would pass he would take a moment off to abuse the L. & N. Railroad. In his speech he charged the Republicans, on the State ticket with every possible variety of crime known to criminal annals. He rehearsed the Goebel murder and seemed to gloat over the inconceivable misfortunes of Caleb Powers. He wound up his speech with a violent tirade against the Republicans in general and the negroes in particular. His remarks were frequently endorsed by some half dozen men who were almost to "toll" for utterance. It was his first time to have an audience in the county, of any size, although he has went to various appointments over the county. He closed his abusive speech by introducing T. F. Birkhead. Birkhead delivered a typical Davless county harrange, never allowing himself to stray or wander from his text. "Dam the negro." He aroused no applause except when he told a story. His "speech" fully justified the current reports of his utter lack of ability to adorn the high office of Circuit Judge. After he closed the audience listened to one Sherry, who made some effort at logical argument, but his deductions and conclusions were so remarkable that he hardly received a ripple of applause. Then the hand entertained the people till the special train bearing Beckham arrived. It was 30 minutes late. It was met by perhaps two hundred men and boys with some half dozen small flags. When Beckham spoke he had perhaps 700 or 800 listeners. Of these at least one third of the voters were Republicans.

The crowd was made up also of many women and children out of town. Beckham made only a few remarks arousing great (?) enthusiasm by saying that he would rather be Governor of Kentucky than President of the United States. He was followed by James B. McCreary, who made a most vile and abusive speech with out the least pretense at argument. It was a desperate effort to arouse passion and prejudice. He said that three-fourths of the convicts in the penitentiaries at Frankfort and Eddyville were Republicans, but he failed to refer to Beckham's notorious pardon records to show the infamous manner in which Democrats of the most outrageous criminal records had been turned loose upon society for purely partisan reasons. McCreary wound up with a vicious howl on negro domination. Three-fourths of his auditors had melted away before he closed. He showed himself not only to be a common ordinary liar, but a very rare type of demagogue.

Every speech was along the same line. If the lack of interest and enthusiasm shown at Beaver Dam is any indication of what is to come Tuesday, then Republicans need not fear. Abuse never makes votes, and there is no doubt but that the violent abuse heaped upon all who do not endorse office stealing Wednesday will aid the Republicans.

Gained Forty Pounds in Thirty Days.

For several months our younger brother had been troubled with indigestion. He tried several remedies but got no benefit from them. We purchased some of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and he commenced taking them. Inside of thirty days he had gained forty pounds in weight. He is now fully recovered. We have a good trade on the Tablets.—Holley Bros., Merchants, Long Branch, Mo. For sale by J. H. Williams.

THOUSANDS CHEER BELKNAP.

Greatest Gathering of the Campaign at Columbia.

TOWNDECKED WITH FLAGS

People of Adair County Turn Out in full Force to Welcome Republican Candidate for Governor.

Columbia, Ky., Oct. 27.—Never in the history of Kentucky did a candidate for Governor make a more triumphal entry into Columbia than did Col. Morris Belknap Tuesday. His welcome surpassed anything of the kind ever seen in Adair county, and even his warmest supporters had not hoped for such an outpouring of people. Hours before Col. Belknap arrived the streets of the town were filled with an enthusiastic crowd, and the place presented a holiday appearance. The Court House, which stands in the center of the principle square, was decked with flags and bunting, the banners floated from every business house, while the people of Adair marched through the streets waving flags and cheering for Belknap.

Shortly before the time for the distinguished visitor to arrive, hundreds of prominent citizens of Columbia and Adair county formed a monster parade and marched out to meet the guests of honor. The procession came upon Col Belknap and the Hon. E. T. Franks, of Owensboro, several miles from town and escorted them into the city where, as soon as the vanguard of the procession arrived, pandemonium broke loose.

At the hotel an informal reception was held, but so great was the crowd which thronged around the Republican candidate for governor, that many who desired to shake his hand were unable to get near him.

After the reception the parade, with Col. Belknap and Mr. Franks at its head, started to the public square. There the reception which awaited the distinguished guests was even more enthusiastic than those which preceded it, and as soon as Col. Belknap appeared on the southeast porch from which he was to speak, a cheer went up which lasted several minutes.

The cheer was but a forerunner of many others which were to follow, for the speaker's address was frequently interrupted with applause from the throats of from 4,000 to 5,000 enthusiastic hearers who were unable to control their jubilant feelings.

At the conclusion of Col. Belknap's speech the Hon. E. T. Franks was introduced and made an address which also called forth considerable applause. After the speaking was finished Col Belknap was forced to remain for a while in order to give all of those who desired an opportunity to meet him.

How Machine Hopes to Win

The machine plan in Kentucky is very simple. It is the plan of 1899 over again. The object is to come to Louisville with a majority. If they can, and steal enough votes in the city to give them a majority of the state in the event they are run too close in the interior. This election greatly depends on the stolen vote in Louisville. That is the dish of political hash that is set before the people of Kentucky. The machine cannot endure without office. The Louisville machine is much more wicked than the State machine, and has got a heap more sense. You remember how the Louisville machine made the State machine eat a meal of leeks last summer. That was because the State machine was depending on the Louisville machine to steal enough votes to give them the State vote, if the rural Kentucky happened to be uncomfortable close.

"It Goes Right to the Spot"

When pain or irritation exists on any part of the body, the application of Billaud's Snow Liniment will give prompt relief. "It goes right to the spot," said an old man who was rubbing it in, to cure his rheumatism. C. R. Smith, Propr. Smith House, Tensha writes: "I have used Billaud's Snow Liniment in my family for several years, and have found it to be a fine remedy for all aches and pains, and I recommend it for pains in the throat and chest. 25c, 50c and $1.00 at J. H. Williams."

OLATON, KY.

Oct. 27.—Health is very good in this vicinity.

We are still waiting for our bridge, and we must surely need it as it cuts off all of the business traffic from Olaton on the east side of Caney creek.

Business is dull in our little town now, but we feel that business will soon open up again and Olaton will continue to improve.

We don't hear anything said now about the new church that was going to be built right away.

Ran a Ten Penny Nail Through His Hand.

While opening a box, J. C. Mount, of Three Mile Bay, N. Y., ran a ten penny nail through the fleshy part of his hand. "I thought at once of all the pain and soreness this would cause me," he says, "and immediately applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm and occasionally afterwards. To my surprise it removed all pain and soreness and the injured parts were soon healed." For sale by J. H. Williams.

By J. H. ROBERTS, D. S.

Wanted to Have His Choice.

A small boy was told by his mother that there would soon be a new baby for him to play with, as the doctor was going to bring it in his black bag. That afternoon the youngster appeared at the office of the family physician and said: "Are you going to bring a new baby to our house?" "Yes, my little man," replied the doctor, highly amused. "Then," returned the small boy, "let me have a look at the kids you have in stock and I'll pick out the one I think I'll like best."

BROUGHT BACK.

Estill Darrell Placed in Jail on a Serious Charge.

Sheriff Keown and His Deputy, J. H. Roberts, Make the Arrest.

The Father of His Niece's Child Born Last Week.

Charged with one of the most heinous crimes in the calendar, Estill Darrell is a prisoner in the Davies county jail. He was arrested at 5 o'clock Tuesday evening while at work on a farm near Derby, Ind.

CAPTURE OF DARRELL.

A few days ago Sheriff Keown received word from Derby, Ind., to the effect that Darrell was working on a farm six miles back of that place under the name of Phillips. Sheriff Keown and his deputy, Joe Roberts, at once went to Owensboro and secured the service of Sheriff Short. They left for Stephensport on Tuesday morning. They crossed the river there to Derby and engaged a team to take them to the farm. The officers say the country is nothing but steep hills and thickly timbered land. At the edge of the timber was the farm where it was said Darrell was working. As they emerged from the underbrush they saw two men plowing in a field. Roberts walked down to one of the men and told him he was looking for telephone poles, at the same time getting nearer to the other man in the field, who was Estill Darrell. Short and Keown remained near the woods. Darrell saw the two officers and called to his companion in the field to find out who they were. He stopped plowing to poke a fire which was burning in the field, and Roberts then walked up to him and said:

"Hello, Estill; what are you doing here?"

Unconsciously Darrell allowed the officer to take hold of his hand.

"Joe Roberts, what in the h—l are you doing here?" replied Darrell. At the same time the captured man made an effort to reach to the ground for a heavy iron spike. Roberts put his foot on the spike and held Darrell until Short and Keown arrived. The man saw he was overpowered and begged the officers not to handcuff him. He said he would offer no resistance. Darrell was put in a wagon and taken back to Derby. He consented to return to Kentucky without requisition papers. They crossed the river to Stephensport at midnight and spent the remainder of the night there.

DARRELL'S CRIME.

The crime for which Darrell must stand trial is the alleged betrayal of Lillie Darrell Thornberry, his niece.

Only a few days since the woman gave birth to a child, but it was born dead. She charged that her uncle, Estill Darrell, accomplished his ruin and the warrant for his arrest was sworn out by Edward Darrell, the father of the girl and a brother of the prisoner.

Connected with this case is the tragic death of Tom Thornberry. On September 5 Thornberry committed suicide by drowning in the Ohio river in the presence of several witnesses.

A few days before his death he was tricked into marrying Lillie Darrell, it being alleged at the time that he was the author of her ruin.

Later, however, the girl confessed all to her father and feeling keenly the disgrace Thornberry destroyed his life.

After the crime had become generally known and all trace of the accused was lost, the Governor was appealed to and he offered a reward of $250 for the arrest of the fugitive. This was supplemented by a reward of $100 offered by the brothers of Thornberry.

The arresting officers will, therefore, divide rewards, aggregating $350 for the capture of the prisoner.

Herald Called Down.

In response to the Herald's statement of October 14th, with reference to the remarks of one of Hartford's German citizens, when introduced to Col. Belknap during his recent visit to Hartford, which is as follows:

He was introduced to one of our good old German citizens, well known in Hartford and the county. In response to the cold and indifferent Belknap grip, the old German extended his hand for a hearty handshake, at the same time exclaiming: "Vell, vell, you vas the very man I vas looking for this long time. I vas glad to see you. I vas for you and I expect to vote for you. I hopes you gets elected. Und if you gets elected, I hopes you don't kill another Giffrer." Nuff sed.

I wish to say that I am one among the few Germans who live in Hartford and have made inquiry of all others who will support Col. Belknap and each deny the statement of the Herald and as for myself I never made such a statement or anything approaching it, and I will vouch for the truthfulness of each Republican German who lives here and each including myself brand the statement of the Herald in so far as it refers to Republican Germans in Hartford, as a falsehood and a lie. Respectfully, LEWIS GUNTHER.

RAILWAY WEDDING

Mr. Henry Carter and Miss Vona Thompson Married.

Capt. Riley Held the Train for the Ceremony and Gave the Bride Away.

The first wedding that ever took place on a railroad train in this section was solemnized at Deansfield Sunday morning.

Mr. Henry Carter and Miss Vona Thompson, of Narrows, started to Owensboro for the purpose of being married by Rev. J. D. Hocker. After they, with a wedding party, boarded the train at Narrows they learned that Mr. Hocker was in Deansfield, Capt. Riley, the conductor of the train, was notified of the situation, and suggested that the marriage take place on the train, promising to send for the minister and to hold the train for the wedding. On arriving at Deansfield a messenger was sent for Rev. Hocker. He came in a few minutes and the ceremony was performed on a license obtained at Hartford. Captain Riley gave the bride away. After the ceremony all the passengers on the train crowded around and offered congratulations, the minister was given a handsome fee, and bestowing a blessing stepped from the train. The bell rang joyously before and during the ceremony, being transformed for the time into a wedding bell.

Mr. and Mrs. Carter and their party went on to Owensboro, where they spent the day, returning to Narrows in the evening. Mr. Carter is the son of Col. W. H. Carter, of Narrows, and is a prosperous farmer. His bride is a beautiful young woman, and belongs to one of the best families of Ohio county.

S. A. Anderson, Dealer in Real Estate, HARTFORD, KY.

Heir to $1,000,000.

Owensboro, Oct. 27.—Living in the flats of Panther creek, and with the winters of eighty years on her head, Mrs. Nancy Short, a highly respected woman, has received a message from England to the effect that she is heiress to money in the Bank of England and real estate to the amount of over a million dollars.

Mrs. Short's grandfather, William Steele, died many years ago and willed his vast estate and money in bank to her father. However, in the meantime, with her father she had come to America. When the grandfather died an effort was made by the relatives to locate William Steele, Jr., in this country. All efforts proved in vain until a few weeks ago, when Mrs. Short wrote to one of her relatives in England. It was then she was remembered as the child of William Steele, Jr., and the relatives knew he was the rightful heir to the money and estate. The proper steps in England and this country have been taken to get the money from the Bank of England, where it has remained all this time, and the real estate ready to be made over to Mrs. Short. Her father died several years ago.

Smothered to Death.

Evansville, Oct. 26.—While about to step out doors to get relief from choking spell, Fritz Schock, a cooper, dropped dead Sunday evening at Herman Hess' boarding house in Outer Harriet street.

The choking spell attacked him about 6 o'clock while seated at the supper table. Previous to that time he had been in the best of spirits, and was engaged in eating a hearty supper.

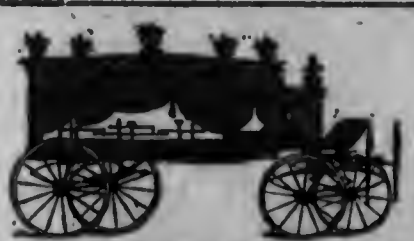

He was seen to suddenly jerk back in his chair and commence to gasp for breath. "I'm smothering," he exclaimed, as he arose and staggered through the room for the door leading into the yard.

Just as he was about to step out of the door he fell over, face foremost, dead.

These seated about the supper table immediately ran to his assistance, and a physician was quickly summoned, but all efforts to revive him proved of no avail.

CAPTAIN EWEN

Will Take the Platform and Deliver 150 Lectures in Northwest.

Has Many Calls to Lecture on Breathitt Feuds.

Captain C. J. Ewen has decided to take the lecture platform.

He will start out this week on a tour that will require 150 lectures and will embrace almost as many towns. Most of the latter will be in the North and Northwest.

Captain Ewen will tell about the origin and results of feuds in Breathitt county. This subject has been picked out for him and he has been asked to throw some further light on the terrible conditions of that lawless mountain county.

Captain Ewen's decision to take the lecture platform was arrived at only after he had been almost overwhelmed with letters from over the country suggesting it. Many of these letters proposed to pay his expenses if he would make the trip to different points and give the people desired talks.

Messrs. W. C. G. Hobbs, Oscar B. Ambros and E. B. Wrenn will back Captain Ewen in his venture and help him manage his tour. Mr. Wrenn will act for a time in the capacity of advance agent and will attend to the bookings. The first lecture is to be given in a certain Ohio town next Wednesday night. The tour from there will be toward the Northwest.

DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. King's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. It is the great medicinal triumph of the nineteenth century. Discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. King, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, kidney, bladder, uric acid troubles and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. King's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but it has been found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work, in private practice, among the helpless poor to purchase relief and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling out how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. King & Co., 110 North Second Street, New York, N. Y. The regular fifty cent and one dollar bottles are sold by all good druggists. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. King's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

FATTENING THE HOGS.

Variety of Food More Economical Than Corn.

Although on most farms the hogs are pushed forward after the fall is nearly over, says the practical farmer, they are not always put up in a condition in which to facilitate the fattening operation, the true way to use corn is to "finish off" with it thereby hardening the fat. To really fatten a hog he should be fed in such a manner, previous to being penned, as to force growth. First build up the frame for the reception of the meat that may be laid upon it, and to do so feed such food as will not only forward growth but keep the animal in a condition that will entail but little expense when the time arrives for getting him fat. And to do this in the most economical manner, pumpkins, beets, turnips, carrots, winter squashes and parsnips, together with finely cut clover hay, may be fed with good results. It will not do, however, to feed such substances in a wasteful manner. A caldron or steamer should be used and a warm feed should be given early in the morning, the mass first thickened with one part bran and two parts ground oats. At noon a feed composed solely of chopped roots, raw but not too cold will be sufficient. At night they should receive a slop, slightly warm composed of ground oats, one part, and corn, with a little bran to somewhat thicken slop. Such food will not only keep the hogs in good health, but will be the cheapest diet at this season that can be allowed, as it will rapidly push them forward while the weather is not severe. The hogs will become very fat, and should not be fed corn to large quantities only for two weeks before being slaughtered. It should not be overlooked that the sweetest and tenderest meat is always produced when the process of fattening is done quickly, and if this is followed but little exercise need be allowed the hogs. Exercise always hardens the muscles, and the hog in no exception to the rule; consequently, the more exercise taken, the tougher the meat. While it may, no doubt, be advisable to permit of some exercise, for the sake of keeping the animals in health yet the hogs that quietly eat their food and take their rest will always fatten readily. Nor should hogs be startled with food. They should be so fed as to receive it at regular hours and in such quantity that they will eat it up clean, but no more. In October or November they can be better managed than later in the season, as the quarters can then be more easily cleaned. It does not pay to keep a hog during winter. It should be slaughtered as soon as the weather is cold enough, for the food is partially wasted during the winter months in providing heat. This is avoided in the late seasons and the hogs should be made fat now. When the cold season sets in let them be quickly finished on corn and then slaughtered as soon as possible.

CASTORIA. The Kind You Have Always Bought Bears the Signature of Charles H. Fletcher That Democratic Circular.

Probably every Democratic voter in the State, and many Republicans, have received a circular letter dated October 16th, and signed by S. W. Hager, chairman, of the Democratic State Campaign Committee, for which we take the following extract:

"My Dear Sir: This is a Democratic State and ought to be governed by the Democratic party. The history of the administration of the Republican party in this State is so familiar to all that it is not necessary to review it in detail.

They took charge of affairs when the tax rate was 4 1/2 cents on the $100 and increased it to 5 1/2 cents, the highest tax rate in the history of the State. They doubled the State debt by borrowing $500,000. When they turned the management back to the Democrats in 1900 there was $364,000 in the Treasury with debt and obligations against the State amounting to about $2,000,000.

The Democrats took hold of this lamentable condition affairs, and in less than four years have placed the State in the best financial condition it ever enjoyed, although we have run on a much less rate of taxation than that under the Republican administration.

With our State debt paid, and with all claims and obligations paid, we will be able to show the sum of over one million dollars in the treasury on January 1, 1904."

It is true that the tax rate was 4 1/2 cents when the Republicans took charge, but it is not true that they raised it to "the highest rate in the history of the State," but it is true that the Democratic Senate and the Republican House levied a special tax of ten cents for the special purpose of paying off the debt made by the Democrats before the Republicans got there, and not one cent of it was at any time, during Gov. Bradley's term used to pay the running expenses of the State. But the Democrats had a tax rate of 5 1/2 cents in 1885, and every cent of it was used to pay the running expenses of the State.

It is absolutely false that the Republicans "doubled the State debt by borrowing $500,000." Mr. Goebel and the whole Legislature authorized Gov. Bradley to borrow $500,000 and pay off this amount of the floating debt of the State, and it did not increase the debt of the State one cent. When the transaction was complete the State owed $500,000 more of bonded debt and $500,000 less floating debt, and the transaction was authorized by the Democratic Senate. Does it "double" a debt to borrow from one man and pay off a number of small debts? Then the charge against the Republicans is unqualifiedly false.

They claim to have paid off the debt when in fact they created the debt they paid off after Mr. Beckham got there, and then had to depend on the National government to pay it off for them. The statement that the State was $2,000,000 in debt when they took control is not true, unless the school bonds are counted, and they have not been paid off yet.

The above circular is a distinct appeal to the ignorant and will only have an effect on that class—unless it be that it will have a disgusting effect on some, and lose votes for their party.—Glasgow Republican.

MARRIES SON'S WIDOW

J. M. Saffel, Frankfort Distiller, Weds Mrs. Fannie Taylor Saffel in Cincinnati.

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 26.—J. M. Saffel, aged sixty years, a wealthy distiller, married Mrs. Fannie Taylor Saffel, aged thirty, widow of his son, the late Phyllis Saffel, in Cincinnati.

Mrs. Saffel is a daughter of E. H. Taylor, Jr., Senator from this district, and for years Mayor of Frankfort, also a wealthy distiller.

Mrs. Saffel was a leading society woman ten years ago when she was married to young S. H. Taylor, at that time connected with the postoffice under his father, who was Postmaster. They lived happily until four years ago, when young Saffel's health failed him. He shot and killed himself. Since then her father-in-law has been devoted to Mrs. Saffel and the two children and has cared for them, but it was not suspected that he loved her other than in a fatherly way. He recently purchased a handsome residence and had it fitted up. Mr. Saffel has been a widower ten years.

The statement that the State was $2,000,000 in debt when they took control is not true, unless the school bonds are counted, and they have not been paid off yet.

The above circular is a distinct appeal to the ignorant and will only have an effect on that class—unless it be that it will have a disgusting effect on some, and lose votes for their party.—Glasgow Republican.

A Perfect Painless Pill is one that will cleanse the system, set the liver to action, remove the bile, clear the complexion, cure headache and leave a good taste in the mouth. The famous little pills for doing such work pleasantly and effectively are DeWitt's Little Early Risers. JOE LETTER'S SUCCESS.

Has Nearly Wiped Out Wheat Deal Debt of $3,000,000.

New York, Oct. 26.—That Joseph Letter has almost completely wiped out the $3,000,000 indebtedness that rested upon him after the collapse of his sensational wheat deal has come to light through his denial of the report that he had been seriously crippled in the recent slump in the stock market.

Statistics show that one man in 50,000 in the United States make a million-dollar in his lifetime; yet Mr. Letter has made $3,000,000 since 1897, and that at the rate of $500,000 a year. Cotton, wheat, oil, milk, corn, stocks, all have yielded a golden hoard to his touch. His successes have been quickly achieved. He had more publicity than he desired as a result of his spectacular attempt to corner the wheat market. Anyhow, the money was not for him; but for his creditors, and so there was no making a splurge about it.

It was known that Mr. Letter had been "long" on several lines of securities that have suffered greatly in the recent slump and from some unknown source the report gained currency that he had been squeezed to the point of bankruptcy. At his home, No. 15 East Thirty-third street, to-day Mr. Letter spoke freely of his financial affairs.

"It is not true that bankruptcy proceedings of any kind are pending against me," said Mr. Letter. "There is no use denying the hard fact that I have been hit in the stock market in the recent slump, but I have had harder raps in my time and have managed to pull out without going to the wall."

"Doubtless it will be news to agree with you to hear that I am just about on my financial feet again after the drubbing I got in the wheat deal in Chicago a few days ago. I woke up one fine day to find that I owed something more than $3,000,000. Since that time I have worked with the end purpose of paying every cent I owed and am glad to say that I am just now clearing up the lag ends of that disastrous wheat deal. A few months more and I shall have a clean bill of financial health."

Do You Want to Yawn? Feel cold shiverings, aching in the bones, lack of energy, headache, and great depression? These symptoms may be followed by violent headache, high fever, extreme nervousness, a condition it before the disease gets a hold, through it will work a cure in any stage. J. A. Hopkins, Manchester, Kan., writes: "I have used your great medicine, Herbine for several years. There is nothing better for malaria, chills and fever, headache, biliousness, and for a blood-purifying tonic, there is nothing as good." 50c at J. H. Williams.

NEW BAYMUS, KY.

Oct. 20.—New Baymus, the Athens of America, is situated midway between Narrows, Olaton and Sulphur Springs, and if Kentucky's State Capital is to be moved it should, by all means, be located here where the invigorating, moral and intellectual atmosphere might renovate the dull and wicked spirits of our legislators.

It would require a whole page of THE REPUBLICAN, weekly, to chronicle the important happenings of this balliwick, but I will abbreviate. No better evidence that New Baymus school district is first in the county can be mentioned than that Prof. James Duff, who won the hoggie in THE REPUBLICAN's popular voting contest for the most popular teacher in Ohio county last year, is teaching here this fall.

In the matter of long life of its citizens New Baymus is, I think, again first. It has four octogenarians, and I don't know how many seventyevenarians. Our old people are, Messrs. Thomas W. Wedding, Martin Mitchell and Mrs. Sarah Barrett, each eighty-two, and Mrs. Julia P. Kirby eighty-five years old, and each of these grand old people bids fair to see many more birthdays.

Mr. Dudley Foreman has a red call with a well developed symmetrical cross, in white, on its right shoulder. The cross is about the size of the usually seen on the tabernacles or altars of Catholic churches. I have read no account of such a phenomenon appearing elsewhere in the animal kingdom.

That New Baymusians are first in war, first in peace and first in unusual moving, note this: Last week John W. Hurt, Oscar Midkiff and George Hart moved. Each moved into a house just vacated by one of the other two, and of course, each moved out of a house into which one of the other two immediately moved, and each moved into his own property.

Mr. Bruno Frey is building a large cellar for storage of the fruit of his vineyard. Mr. Frey grew up among the vineyards along the banks of the River Rhine in Northern Switzerland, and understands the cultivation of the lucious grape. He has two fine vineyards now maturing from which he made this season two casks of the purple fluid "that maketh the heart glad."

Our people marry young as well as live to be old. Last week Bruce Riggs and Mattie Blacklock were united in the holy bonds of indissoluble union. Mr. Riggs is sixteen and Miss Blacklock is fourteen years old.

Mr. James King, anxious to add to the quaint and curious experiences of New Baymusians, went down to Owensboro a short time ago and got himself held up and robbed. King is a good fellow, but none of us ever expected him to be mistaken for a millionaire by a stranger, but it is always the unexpected that happens. King had only twenty-five cents, but he handed it over gracefully and had the satisfaction three days later of seeing the purveyor of his small cash sentenced to three years in the penitentiary.

Now, Mr. Editor, if this letter doesn't awaken your correspondent to the importance of rising up and making their communities famous, I shall try again.

Robbed The Grave. A startling incident, is narrated by John Over, of Philadelphia, as follows: "I was in an awful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite, growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Then I was advised to use Electric Bitters; to my great joy, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents, guaranteed, at Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro. drug store.

CAPTAIN EWEN

Will Take the Platform and Deliver 150 Lectures in Northwest.

Has Many Calls to Lecture on Breathitt Feuds.

Captain C. J. Ewen has decided to take the lecture platform.

He will start out this week on a tour that will require 150 lectures and will embrace almost as many towns. Most of the latter will be in the North and Northwest.

Captain Ewen will tell about the origin and results of feuds in Breathitt county. This subject has been picked out for him and he has been asked to throw some further light on the terrible conditions of that lawless mountain country.

Captain Ewen's decision to take the lecture platform was arrived at only after he had been almost awash with letters from over the country suggesting it. Many of these letters proposed to pay his expenses if he would make the trip to different points and give the people desired talks.

Messrs. W. C. G. Hobbs, Oscar B. Ambros and E. B. Wrenn will back Captain Ewen in his venture and help him manage his tour. Mr. Wrenn will act for a time in the capacity of advance agent and will attend to the bookings. The first lecture is to be given in a certain Ohio town next Wednesday night. The tour from there will be toward the Northwest.

Beautiful Complexions.

Are spoiled by using any kind of preparation that fills the pores of the skin. The best way to secure a clear complexion free from pimples, blotches, etc., is to keep the live in good order. FATTENING THE HOGS.

Variety of Food More Economical Than Corn.

Although on most farms the hogs are pushed forward after the fall is nearly over, says the practical farmer, they are not always put in a condition in which to tolerate the fattening operation, the time way to use corn is to "finish off" with it thereby hardening the fat. To really fatten a hog he should be fed in such a manner, previous to being penned, as to force growth. First build up the frame for the reception of the meat that may be laid upon it, and to do so feed such food as will not only forward growth but keep the animal in a condition that will entail but little expense when the time arrives for getting him fat. And to do this in the most economical manner, pumpkins, beets, turnips, carrots, winter squashes and parsnips, together with finely cut clover hay, may be fed with good results. It will not do, however, to feed such substances in a wasteful manner. A caudron or steamer should be used and a warm feed should be given early in the morning, the mass first thickened with one part bran and two parts ground oats. At noon a feed composed solely of chopped roots, raw but not too cold will be sufficient. At night they should receive a slop, slightly warm composed of ground oats, one part, and corn, with a little bran to somewhat thicken slop. Such food will not only keep the hogs in good health, but will be the cheapest diet at this season that can be allowed, as it will rapidly push them forward while the weather is not severe. The hogs will become very fat, and should not be fed in large quantities only for two weeks before being slaughtered. It should not be overlooked that the sweetest and tenderest meat is always produced when the process of fattening is done quickly, and if this is followed but little exercise need be allowed the hogs. Exercise always hardens the muscles, and the hog is no exception to the rule; consequently, the more exercise taken, the tougher the meat. While it may, no doubt, be advisable to permit of some exercise, for the sake of keeping the animals in health yet the hogs that quietly eat their food and take their rest will always fatten readily. Nor should hogs be surfeited with food. They should be so fed as to receive it at regular hours and in such quantity that they will eat it up clean, but no more. In October or November they can be better managed than later in the season, as the quarters can then be more easily cleaned. It does not pay to keep a hog during winter. It should be slaughtered as soon as the weather is cold enough, for the food is partially wasted during the winter months in providing heat. This is avoided in the fall seasons and the hogs should be made fat now. When the cold season sets in let them be quickly finished on corn and then slaughtered as soon as possible.

A Thoughtful Man.

M. M. Anston, of Winchester, Ind., knew what to do in the hour of need. His wife had such an unusual case of stomach and liver trouble, physicians could not help her. He thought of and tried Dr. King's New Life Pills and she got relief at once and was finally cured. Only 25c at Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro., drug store.

One Minute Cough Cure For Coughs, Colds and Croup.

SMALLEST WOMAN

She is Miss Florence M. Tate, of Granite City, Ill.

Bloomington, Ill., Oct. 26.—The world's smallest woman is Miss Florence M. Tate, of Granite City. She is but two feet in height and weighs but thirty-four pounds. Her age is thirty-four and is fluent in conversation. She reads, writes and attends to all her correspondence and enjoys writing to her friends and admirers and is very proud of her diminutive size. She finds it no bar to social guests and she is always a welcome guest at the various social functions at her home city. She is a member of the Methodist Episcopal church, and also of the Epworth League. She has an extremely interesting personality, is a charming conversationalist, and is talented in many ways, being an adept at painting, embroidery and all kinds of intricate fancy work. She is especially fond of discussing religious and benevolent work. Her father was a veteran of the civil war. She is well informed on public events and has a wide acquaintance.

Only a Very Few Published.

It is not possible for the proprietors to publish more than a very few of numerous letters received in praise of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and telling of its remarkable cures. They come from people in every walk in life and room every state in the Union. The following from Mr. T. W. Grathouse, of Hattiesburg, Ga., speaks for himself: "I would have been dead now but for the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It cured me of chronic diarrhoea after seven years of suffering. I can never say too much in praise for that remedy." For sale by all druggists.

The Safe Side.

"You'll be sorry some day that you didn't get married if you don't."

"Well, I'd rather not be married and be sorry I wasn't than be married and be sorry I was."—San Francisco Wasp.
